

In Spain, I toured the Guadix cave homes with my sister. They are some of the <sup>1</sup>strangest / more strangely homes in the world. People live in cave houses there. The houses are <sup>2</sup>more dark / darker than normal houses because they don't have many windows.

In the summer, the caves are <sup>3</sup>cooler / coolest than normal homes, and in winter they are <sup>4</sup>the warmer / warmer.

Our tour guide spoke <sup>5</sup>quickest / more quickly than most tour guides. He talked the <sup>6</sup>faster / fastest near the end of the tour. My sister understood the guide <sup>7</sup>better / best than I did, so she repeated everything <sup>8</sup>slower / more slowly for me.
